

SOUTHERN POET'S COUNSELLING SERVICE

Dr Charles Mintern cordially invites you to an afternoon of his authentic poetry, home-made mince pies and wine

As an especially selected invitee, you are politely requested to donate the small sum of £25 to the Southern Poet's Counselling Service (SPCS) which organisation provides pastoral care to those suffering from Southern Regional Poetic Syndrome (SRPS) and/or Persistent Failure Fatigue (PFF). The afternoon will be rounded off with a fascinating 30 minutes of the Doctor in conversation with himself.

After last year's SPCS Xmas extravaganza (1984) the leading literary periodicals proclaimed . . .

" . . . this was undoubtedly the most important leaflet to have been produced in the last 25 years . . ." (Leaflet Review). "Amazing, what a leaflet! You could almost feel the gravity!" (New Leaflet Review)

Come and listen to Dr Mintern's fabulous landscape poems! Be amazed at the hinged valleys, fields on stilts and scenic absurdities you'll encounter as this masterly poet explodes the myths of place with ease! Sit back in your chair and roar with laughter at the landscape, social hypocrisy and ridiculous culture of the south of England! Feel smug that it's for charity too! Write now to book your own afternoon sitting (vacancies still exist for the week beginning Monday 18th December)!

Southern Poetry, together we can fix it (Ha Ha)!
